On January 7, 1959, Mr. Smith of Mississippi (D) introduced the above resolution to establish a Joint Committee on Intelligence Matters to be composed of nine members of the Senate and nine members of the House of Representatives. This bill was referred to the House Committee on Rules.

Under the provisions of this proposed resolution, the joint committee will make studies of the intelligence activities and problems relating to gathering of intelligence affecting the national security and its coordination and utilization by various Government agencies and departments.

b3

This joint committee as proposed is authorized to hold hearings, to require, by subpoena, the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and records.

Mr. Price of Illinois (D), on January 7, 1959, introduced a similar resolution on this subject matter identified as H. Con. Res. 10. There have been other bills and resolutions introduced on the first day of Congress regarding this proposed legislation identified as follows: H. Con. Res. 11, H. Con. Res. 14, H. Joint Res. 31, H. R. 380, H. R. 738, H. R. 743, H. R. 1226.

Enclosed is a copy of H. Con. Res. 4, 86th Congress, 1st Session.

Re: Joint Committee on Intelligence Matters

RECOMMENDATION:

In view of the fact this proposed legislation sets up a committee to check into activities generally of intelligence agencies, it is believed Mr. Nease's office should contact the author of this resolution, Mr. Smith of Mississippi, and ascertain specifically whether or not it would mean that the activities of the FBI would be subject to study by such committee in the event this resolution is agreed upon.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

1 - Cleveland

1 - Liaison Section

TO : MR. BELMONT

December 29, 1958

FROM : R. R. ROACH

SUBJECT: [LEGAL ATTACHE OPERATIONS] * (u)

64-4104-978

Reference is made to my memo of December 23, 1958, captioned as above. In connection with the policy set forth in referenced memorandum Mr. Tolson noted: "I cannot see wherein the above is different in any respect to what we are now doing." The Director noted: "It is not clear to me. I would like a succinct listing of just what we are proposing to do as compared to our present procedures."

Present Procedures:

1. We give leads to our Legal Attaches wherever we have an office which they handle through liaison sources and contacts. We propose no change in this. (u)

2. In handling criminal liaison abroad, we handle direct with the foreign agency and we do not disseminate or advise anyone. No change is proposed concerning this. (u)

3. In security cases it has been our policy to have the Legal Attaches handle leads with foreign agencies where feasible. [redacted]

[redacted] We propose no change in this. (u)

102-80750-
NOT RECORDED

4. In security cases we follow the policy of dissemination of information developed by the Legal Attaches both locally by them and here at the Seat of Government, provided it is not against the interests of the Bureau to do so for reasons of security, protection of informants, et cetera. We propose no change in this. (u)

5. Where we have a "hot" case or an intelligence matter that is closely held by the Bureau either because of the need to protect the source or informant or where we are not ready to break the case, we have not advised other agencies of the requests made by our Legal Attaches of foreign services. Each case is considered on its merits, the governing principle being what is best for the Bureau. We do not propose to change this. (u)

In security cases, the Bureau will continue to follow the policy of disseminating locally and at the Seat of Government information developed by the Legal Attaches, provided such dissemination will not prejudice the security of the case, the protection of informants or sources, or for some other compelling operational reason. (S) y

Q 2 OF 11

In highly important cases of intelligence matters which are held closely by the Bureau to protect the source or informant or where it is not yet possible to break the case, other agencies have not been advised of the response made by the Legal Attaches of foreign sources for coverage or investigation. Each such case is considered on its merits. There will be no change in this policy. (S) y
